THRESHOLD LIST EXPLAINED

About Threshold Security List

A Threshold Security is defined in Rule 203(c)(6) of Regulation SHO, as any equity security of any issuer that is registered pursuant to Section 12 of the Exchange Act, or that is required to file reports under Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act (commonly referred to as "Reporting Issuers"), where, for five consecutive settlement days

- There is an aggregate fail to deliver position at a registered clearing agency of 10,000 shares or more;
- . The level of the aggregate fail to deliver position is equal to at least one-half of one percent of the issuer's total shares outstanding, and
- The security is included on a list published by a self-regulatory organization (SRO).

FINRA Rule 4320 defines a Threshold Security as an equity security of an issuer that is not registered pursuant to Section 12 of the Exchange Act, or that is not required to file reports under Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act (i.e., a Non-Reporting Issuer), where, for five consecutive settlement days

- There is an aggregate fail to deliver position at a registered clearing agency of 10,000 shares or more;
- The aggregate fail to deliver position is valued at $50,000 or more based on the leastfale price for the security during the five consecutive settlement date period, or, if not available, the closest last sale price reported prior to the five consecutive settlement date period, and
- The security is included on a list published by a self-regulatory organization (SRO).

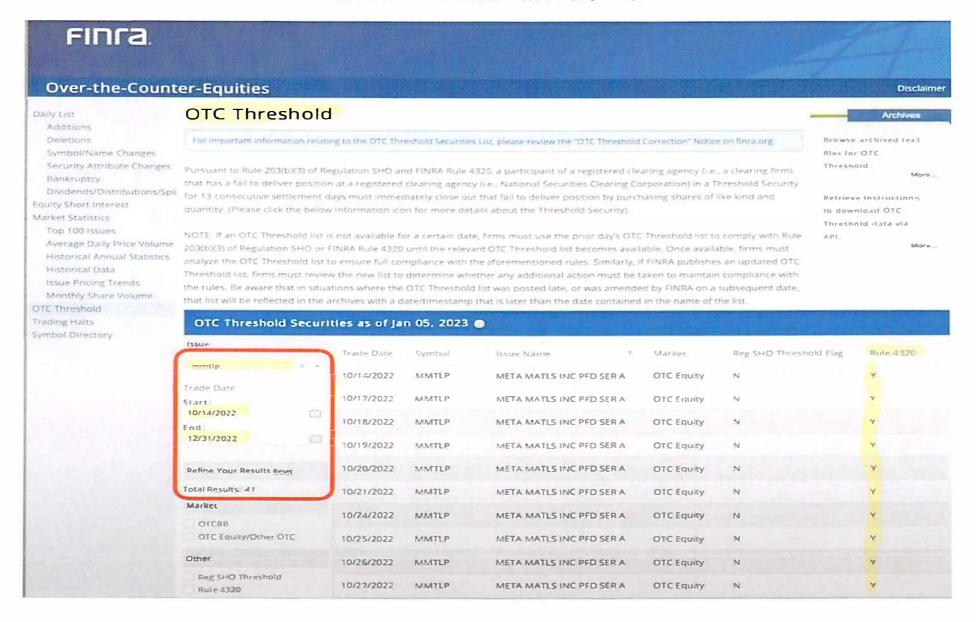

A security ceases to be a Threshold Security under both Rule 203(c)(6) of Regulation SHO and FINRA Rule 4320, if it does not meet the relevant requirements for five consecutive settlement days.

Under FINRA rule 7150, these trades were supposed to be settled – since these trades onscreen in the above screenshot in #XX, above, had to have been placed no later than 8 December 2022, DTCC was bound to honor the trades: "Rule 7150: If a Participant is reported by the System as a party to a trade that has been treated as lockedin and sent to DTCC, notwithstanding any other agreement to the contrary, that party shall

72. A share survey of MMTLP shareholders conducted by Russell Race in 2023 confirmed dramatically oversold conditions in MMTLP; the methodology he used was unassailably conservative and involved not including whale (large) shareholders as part of the calculus to get to a share count but only added them in at the termination of the mathematics when average shareholders were analyzed. The results lead inescapably to the conclusion that MMTLP was oversold at least to almost 500,000,000 shares – and its initial, legal allotment from DTCC was approximately 164,000,000 (despite the trade start to it being of dubious/illegal origin:
